PAVILION -- Pavilion Baptist Church will host a nationally known speaker, author and cancer survivor at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Joshua Goodling was diagnosed with terminal cancer at the age of 4 and given one week to live. That was more than 40 years ago. After appropriate treatment at the time he went into remission until several years later when the cancer returned in his brain stem.

Once again his treatment led to a remission but left him somewhat debilitated. These disabilities were not so much that he could not graduate from college, author a book and many articles and become a motivational speaker.

Goodling has a web site www.joshuagoodling.com. His message will be "Bouncing Back When Your Chances Are Zero."

The public can read a chapter from his book and many of the articles he has written by accessing his web site.

All are invited to attend.
